

THE Eugene O'Neill
INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL of THEATRE

October 15th – 17th 2021

New Ross, County Wexford, Ireland

Celebrating the life, work and legacy of the most famous Irish-American playwright, Eugene O'Neill.

www.eugeneoneillfestival.com

New Ross Drama Workshop presents
Eugene O'Neill One Act Plays in Rehearsed Readings

Recklessness

Where the Cross is Made A Wife for a Life

Under the capable artistic direction of two of the groups directorial protagonists Margaret Rossiter and Peggy Hussey. The group explore themes of maritime adventures, the Wild West and the intricacies of love.

St Michael's Theatre, New Ross

Friday 15th Oct. | 8pm | Admission €12.00

More Stately Mansions

By Eugene O'Neill

In a Staged Reading | Directed by Ben Barnes
Ireland's first staging of this epic play in two parts

The play, as one commentator has put it, offers "a vision of American history which borrows from the past in order to create images of the present and future."

St Michael's Theatre, New Ross

Saturday Oct. 16th | Part 1: 3.30pm & Part 2: 8pm
Admission €30.00

MAKE AN EVENING OF IT

Option of Dinner at Dunbrody Visitors' Centre
(During the break) + €15

Four Rivers Presents

The Beauty Queen of Leenane

by Martin MacDonagh | Directed by Ben Barnes

A blackly comic modern Irish classic from renowned playwright and Golden Globe-winning filmmaker Martin McDonagh. It portrays the manipulative Mag and her virginal daughter Maureen as they play out a battle of mutual loathing against the beautiful but unforgiving backdrop of the Connemara hills.

St Michael's Theatre, New Ross

Sunday 17th Oct. | 8pm | Admission €23.00

Weekend Ticket €60.00

(not including dinner option)

St Michael's Theatre Box Office: 051 421255